Page 28 Tuition and Expenses

Tuition for the juris doctor degree program is currently $3,500 per year (effective August 1, 2007). This amount is subject to review and alteration by the College from year to year. Any alteration in the tuition amount will be clearly stated in the enrollment agreement. Tuition is payable in full at the beginning of each year, or a ten-month payment plan option may be utilized. If the student uses the optional payment plan or pays their tuition in full with a credit or debit card, there is an additional $75 per year processing fee.

The College currently charges a $56 registration fee to cover the processing of the enrollment materials and payments. There is also a $50 media fee. Applicants are charged a nonrefundable $25 application fee that must be included with the application.

Students also have access to LEXIS-NEXIS and Westlaw online legal research services. Access to these services is only offered during the second, third, and fourth years. Students pay a Technology Fee of $100 per year that defrays the cost of these and other electronic services provided by the College.

Tuition does not include transportation, housing or meals during the college conferences. College conferences include: orientation, FYLSX (baby bar) review and elective workshops. The conference facility currently charges $54 per night for double occupancy (includes meals). There is a $100 fee per conference. The Graduation Fee is currently $200 for those who choose to attend graduation.

The following fees are related to the students' legal studies, but are not paid directly to Oak Brook College. They are the responsibility of each student (bar fees current as of July 20, 2007):

$92	Registration as a Law Student Fee—first year only
$488	First-Year Law Students' Examination Fee—first year only
$119	FYLSX Laptop Fee—first year only
$529	CA General Bar Examination Fee (upon graduation)
$431	Application for Determination of Moral Character
$55 (per year)	Multistate Professional Responsibility Exam (MPRE)
$400 to $1000 per year	Textbooks

At this time, the College does not provide any students with financial aid and does not participate in any student loan programs. The College reserves the right to reevaluate the fee structures from year to year and to change them at its discretion.
